

Labour Economics Conference, 30th May 2019, Banff

The Canadian Labour Economics Forum (CLEF) will hold its annual Conference on Labour Economics in Banff on May 30th, 2019 one day ahead of the CEA's Annual Conference. The keynote speaker is Kelly Bedard from University of California, Santa Barbara.

Individuals wishing to present a paper should submit it by January 13, 2019. Extended abstracts will be considered. Submissions should be sent to: aferrer@uwaterloo.ca. Please note CLEF 2019 Conference Submission in the subject line. The announcement of accepted papers will be made the week of February 1st, ahead of the 2019 CEA conference submission deadline. Authors whose papers could not be accepted are invited to resubmit to the CEA conference.

Miana Plesca from University of Guelph, Tammy Schirle from Wilfrid Laurier University, and Ana Ferrer from University of Waterloo, will compose the Program Committee.

CLEF is a network of scholars and policy practitioners interested in maintaining a Forum to discuss and support Canadian labour research and is currently managed by a board of interested members

Visit us on-line <https://clef.uwaterloo.ca/>

Follow @CLEForum